Election/Restriction

Species Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

The following species restriction is required:

1/ A specifically named DNA-damaging agent as recited in claim 6.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species as listed above even though this requirement is traversed, since the listed species are structurally distinct.

2/ A specifically named gene transfer technique as recited in claim 8.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species as listed above even though this requirement is traversed, since the listed species are structurally distinct.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species as indicated above are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because of the patentably distinct species as listed above and because of the reasons set forth above, it would be unduly burdensome for the examiner to search and examine all of the subject matter being sought in the presently pending claims, and thus, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
